

Family Listings - the place where the Fraga Family connects...

Now Open!

Looking for Fraga family members and friends who are -

- artists
- craftsmen/women
- skilled trades people
- professional services providers
- have other talents/skills/expertise (e.g., electrical/plumbing services, music lessons, tutoring, massage, child care, elder care, real estate and so many more)

Also...

- items to sell
- Mexican restaurants/stores to recommend
- Cultural events
- Recipes

We now have Family Listings - our own Fraga family Etsy/Craigslist/FB Marketplace - a place and way to share with our family. So when you're looking for a special gift, a service, a new restaurant to try or other items you can now check out what family members have listed. There's a very good chance someone in our family does it, has it, knows about it!

We are now "soft" launching a new feature on our Family website – Family Listings (which means we are launching it even though we are still working on it).

With our extensive family we have many individuals who are making and doing so many incredible things. So we thought it was time we provided a way for them to list what they do and share them with the family via our website.

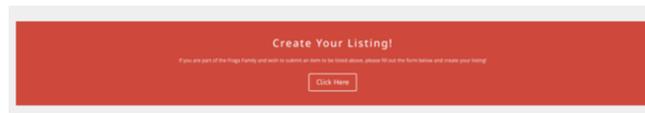

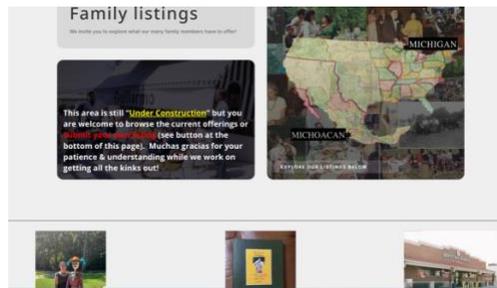

So please consider listing what you do, make, sell on our Family Listings.

Note: You need to be a registered user of the website and then logged in to see or list your item.

Then go to "Our Listings". You can create your own listing by going to the bottom of the Listings page and click on "Create Your Listing" or Click Here

*Family Listings -
the place where the Fraga Family connects...*

We appreciate your understanding and patience in advance as we work on the finishing touches of this new feature.

Please contact Len at michoacantomichigan@gmail.com if you have any questions, need help, have suggestions or whatever.

All listings are intended to provide a service – to offer opportunities for users of these classifieds to connect. All transactions are completely between the parties involved in the transaction. Thefragafamily.com. its creators, moderators and administrators assume no responsibility for any transactions, exchanges or communications between the parties involved.*